As you may be aware, we are mandated by one or more of your customers (see individual customer list below) to help them manage the MSDS documents pertaining to the products they purchase from you.

A key part of this service includes ensuring all their MSDS documents are on-line, and updating any revised documents into their online application Endash thus making them accessible to all users & administrators, and ensuring their workspaces remain in compliance.

After a thorough review of your website, we were unable to find updated versions for the products on the attached list. Please understand that in order to ensure that our mutual customers management solutions are in compliance, and that they are able to maximize the investment they have made into improving their hazard communication, it is appreciated that we obtain these outstanding MSDS-revisions.

Please take the time to review the attached list, gather the relevant MSDSs, and send them to us along with a copy of this notice. You can send us this information either by mail (address listed below) or electronically (simply click on reply icon and attach documents).

Note that in order to ensure only the highest quality images for scanning we CANNOT ACCEPT SCANNED IMAGES.

If you cannot provide some of the requested MSDS-revisions, we ask you to note the reason why next to the product name on the attached list. Some reasons & suggested courses of action include:

- Product is no longer made
- Product name has changed
- Requested MSDS language is not available
- For American MSDSs without change
- mark as obsolete
- please provide new name & send related MSDS
- confirm you cannot send the document in the language required (see list) and send what you have
- check SAME DATE box if no new MSDSs are available

When sending by regular mail, please direct to the following address:
